1. Whoso cometh into me sorroweth not; for I am life, light, and pursuit of holiness, not; I am it, I am holy/holiness and righteousness and judgment none, not; pursued by the son not but given him judgment I have; reservedest not for thou thyself; having given it to me. I love you.
2. Whoso cometh into me I in no wise will cast out. I will not castrate, I will give reproduction rights of only me, father. I love you. Father being/willing his rights to me, not; him being me us one. I love you.
3. This is the day all things change, not; all/most do. And looking not right nor left where findest thou the kingdom? Within, without, round/all about.
4. I love you all.
